BI-LINGUAL, BI-CULTURAL COMMUNITY AND OUTREACH SERVICES

The following client-centered staff skills, agency modalities, and policies provide major components of bi-lingual, bi-cultural services:

- Staff has knowledge of and can speak and write the native language of the clients;
- Staff knowledge, attitude and behaviors are sensitive to the cultural nuances of the client population (i.e. recent immigrants do not have the same experiences as earlier arrivals);
- Staff background represent those of the client population(s);
- Treatment modalities reflect the cultural values and treatment needs of the client population (i.e. incorporating American-Indian rituals into the treatment program;
- Representatives of the client population participate in decisionmaking and policy implementation so that outsiders are not imposing their values.
